

José C Martínez has been a Program Coordinator at SBCC School of Extended Learning for approximately 27 years. He is currently in charge of The Community Education Center, Bilingual Computer Labs, and the Adult High School & GED programs. He is a former SBCC ESL student and obtained two degrees from SBCC before moving to UCSB where he received his B.A. in Law and Society.

Some of Jose's contributions to SBCC School of Extended Learning include the creation of the Citizenship Center, now known as the Community Education Center, Bilingual GED classes, and the creation of the first bilingual computer classes. Jose has been serving as an advisor (CCIME) to the Mexican government on public policy on education for nine years. He has also been a liaison between SBCC and the U.S. Department for Homeland Security (USCIS) for many years.
